

◀ LUCKY Marmite, who was trapped in an abandoned hole

Psychic pet rescue

MISSING Marmite the Jack Russell was back home safe and well yesterday – after a psychic pet detective pinpointed where he had been trapped for a week.

Nikki Newcombe, 35, turned to Pea Horsley, who claims telepathic powers, after a fruitless search with a thermal imaging kit. Pea, from London, described landmarks Marmite had passed and said he was stuck down a hole in water.

Nikki followed the route in Brownhills, West Midlands, found a deep hole and heard the dog bark. Nikki said: "He was really excited". Pea said: "It's one of the quickest I've found."
